

Ray McReynolds Is New Member of Draft Board

Randall county registered 1010 men for military service during the 18 day period which ended Saturday night.

Registration was conducted at the Lindsey Motor Co. under the direction of Mrs. Tommye Prichard, who was clerk of the Randall County Selective Board during World War II. Daily reports on the registration were made to the four-county district board at Hereford.

Mrs. Prichard stated Monday that of the 1010 men registered, 150 were single boys and these are probably eligible to military service unless excused for physical defects or for vocational reasons.

The registration was under the direction of Dr. S. H. Condron, member of the board from Randall county. However, Dr. Condron sent his resignation to State Headquarters at Austin last week and recommended that Ray McReynolds be appointed to take over the job. Mr. McReynolds assisted during the registration period. He was a veteran of World War I and has been very active in American Legion work. He has been notified of his appointment to the four-county board, which will handle the induction of men into military service.

Mrs. Prichard and Dr. Condron joined in an expression of great appreciation for the volunteer workers who assisted during the registration. It was possible to keep assistants daily at the local registration office, as well as to have volunteers who went to Amarillo daily to assist Randall county boys in the registration.

From now on all boys as they become 18 years of age must go to Hereford, Amarillo or some other draft board office to register. There will be no further registration in Canyon.

Johnson-Stevenson Squabble May End In Fort Worth

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson ruled in Fort Worth Tuesday against the motion of Lyndon Johnson that he had no jurisdiction in the senatorial race. Johnson was declared winner by 87 votes. Coke Stevenson obtained an injunction against certifying the name of Johnson as the senatorial candidate on the ground of election fraud.

Judge Davidson suggested that the two candidates run again in November. Stevenson agreed, but Johnson objected.

Davidson may give a final decision Wednesday. Both candidates have indicated that they will appeal from his decision.

As the matter stands, no senatorial candidate on the Democratic ticket was certified, and sample ballots are being prepared without such a candidate.

Absentee voting starts on Oct. 11 and the ballot should be printed by that time. However printing may be delayed in most counties unless the case is finally settled to allow the winner of the contest to be printed as the Democratic candidate.

Will F. Baird Randall County Pioneer Dies

Funeral services for Will F. Baird, 76 years old, pioneer cattleman and trail driver, were conducted Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Christian Church, with Weems S. Dykes, minister, officiating.

Mr. Baird died just after 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his home where he had lived since 1920.

A native Texan, Mr. Baird was born in Van Zandt County, in February of 1872. He moved to New Mexico in 1885, then came back to Texas, where as a young man, he started his ranch career on the J. Mill Ranch, east of Panhandle.

He once helped drive a herd of some 2,000 cattle from Penasco, 50 miles southwest of Roswell, to the J. Mill outfit. En route the cattle watered at the old city lake, July 4, 1894.

In the 90's, while still young, he helped to drive two large herds from New Mexico into or through the Panhandle. On one of these trips, the trail drivers started out from Penasco, April 1, after several weeks of preparation. The drive went by way of Fort Sumner, House, Endee, Clayton, on across the Cimarron River to Beaver City.

Later Mr. Baird, with his brothers, James F., E. T., N. J., and J. C., moved to Higgins, where they ran a small ranch.

There it was that he met his future wife, Miss Fairlee Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Porter, pioneers of that region.

He and his brothers later bought land which they farmed and where they also ran cattle. These operations continued until Mr. Baird moved to Canyon in 1921.

He was a member of the Christian Church, the Masonic and the Odd Fellows Lodges.

Pallbearers were W. D. Boland, T. S. Stevenson, Wayne Sanford, Walter and A. A. Kirkpatrick and T. M. Brock.

Surviving are the wife, a son, W. J. "Bill" Baird, Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. John McCarty, Amarillo; and three grandchildren, Miss Evelyn Jeanne McCarty, and James and Wilbur Don McCarty, all of Amarillo.

Interment was in Dreamland Cemetery, under the direction of Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home of Amarillo.

Four Propositions Will Go to Voters of Canyon Independent School Dist. Special Election to Be Saturday

Voters of the Canyon Independent School District will go to the polls on Saturday of this week, September 25, to pass upon four propositions which are submitted by the board of trustees.

All voters in the 16 districts which have been consolidated into the Canyon district are eligible to vote in this election.

The first proposition of the official ballot calls for cancelling the $75,000 bond issue which was approved by the voters on July 15. These bonds have not been issued in view of the fact that consolidation proceedings were started before approval of the bonds by the Attorney General, and therefore the district boundary lines changed.

The second proposition calls for the new district assuming the outstanding bonds of all districts in the new consolidation. This spreads the outstanding bonds over all of the district now within the boundaries of the new consolidation.

The third proposition is to vote new bonds in the amount of $100,000 in order to pay for the improvements which have been made on the school property in view of the recent consolidation. These bonds are an increase of $25,000 over the amount approved by the voters in July. Following the improvement program it was found by the trustees that the original $75,000 bond issue was not sufficient to take care of the improvements which were needed by the school.

The fourth proposition is to make a uniform tax rate in all of the 16 districts. This is necessary because of the fact that tax rates varied in the 16 districts which are now in the consolidation.

Mrs. Paul Fluegel Has Narrow Escape From Lightning

In the thunderstorm Monday afternoon Mrs. Paul Fluegel narrowly escaped being killed when she was struck and burned by a bolt of lightning.

Mrs. Fluegel was at the family home alone and went out to attend to a calf that she thought needed watering. As she reached into a tank to turn on the water she was struck by lightning. She was badly burned about the face, neck, arms and chest. When her husband returned to the house from the field where he was caught by the shower, she was lying by the tank unconscious. He did not know how long she had lain there in the rain and hail.

An ambulance was summoned from Griggs-Warren Funeral Home and Mrs. Fluegel was brought to Neblett Hospital for treatment. She remained unconscious for several hours.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Fluegel reported that she was resting as well as could be expected.

nothing new in any of these propositions which was not contemplated in the consolidation, except the increase of the bond issue amount. This increase followed the costs of getting the school property in proper shape for the opening of school.

It is hoped that all qualified voters in the school district will go to the polls and cast their vote in favor of all four of the proposals which are submitted by the board of trustees. This board of trustees is composed of Dr. R. A. Neblett, W. R. Crow, Clem Dugan, C. R. Erwin, Walter Graham, Mrs. E. D. Harrell and George R. Ross.

ACC to Battle Buffaloes Here Next Saturday

Abilene Christian College of Abilene will bring a strong team here Saturday night to meet the Buffaloes.

Last year the ACC boys slipped one over on the Buffs, handing them a surprise defeat.

While Tech was defeating the Buffs last Saturday, ACC was run over by Arkansas University by a score of 44 to 6. Those who saw the game declare that ACC didn't have a chance against the Razorbacks, who are reported to have an exceptionally strong team this year.

It is expected that a record crowd will see the game Saturday night owing to the strong showing that the Buffs have made this year.

ACC scrimmaged with Texas Tech on the afternoon that the Buffs defeated Flagstaff, but no indications is given as to the comparative strength of the two teams.

This does not mean that Johnson's name will be barred, if the Federal Judge lifts the injunction. Johnson's name may be included on the official ballot when these are printed in the 254 counties.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

This senatorial race reminds us of the Englishman's version of a football game he recently witnessed. One team got possession of the ball on their own 10 yard line. They started a steady march across the field in 5, 10, 15 yard gains. They managed to go to the one foot line of their opponent where they bogged down and lost the ball. Naturally the crowd went wild, especially the followers of the team which had held at a crucial moment. The Englishman was amazed. His query was: "Why in the heck didn't they hold away down the field instead of at their own goal line." As followers of Coke Stevenson we were well aware of the fact that his state headquarters bogged down and failed to carry the ball at the crucial moments. This opinion has been expressed by all who tried to visit the Stevenson headquarters during the campaign. We don't know whether or not the election was stolen from Coke. But the fact has been pointed out time and again that the same thing has been going on in South Texas for 30 years or more. This block voting under the direction of a local dictator is nothing new in South Texas, but it is high time that some one go to the trouble to expose the proceedings. If Coke can get it over to the world that there has been crooked methods used in that section, his fight may be worth while. We shall see what we shall see.

The News is like most Americans, thoroughly and completely confused over the Russian situation. There is one ray of light. While Pearson and Winchell were preaching the dilemma of America a few months ago, and indicating that we were just ready to be grabbed off by Russia, they are now not nearly so sure that we are on the threshold of war. Even General Clay over in Berlin says there is no immediate danger of war. But no one in America has reached the point of wishing to surrender to Russia and demand that we give Stalin all that he is asking; that is, no one but Henry Wallace. We started that program back during the war, and have found that the more we give Stalin the more he wants. What a price we have paid for this war!

Attorney General Price Daniel comes up with recommendations for improving the election laws of Texas. He would eliminate all reports on elections until after the polls had closed for 48 hours. All election judges would be forced to get their returns into the hands of the county executive committee before any returns were opened and announced. This recommendation would eliminate last minute "stuffing" of the ballot box, as claimed by Coke Stevenson in at least one voting precinct of the state. The idea seems good, but Texans like to stand around the bulletin board on election nights and see what is going on. Everyone who messes with political campaigns know the necessity of changing election laws, but getting the job done is a horse of another color.

We see where the Texas Election Bureau is being unjustly accused of trying to juggle election figures in the recent senatorial race. The charge is unfounded and laughable to those who know how the Bureau works. It is owned and operated by the newspapers of Texas, regardless of political inclination. Figures from election boxes are wired to the Bureau from the 254 counties of Texas. At least eight different persons handle election returns, and it is almost humanly impossible to keep out errors. It is most remarkable that so few errors are actually found in the final returns. When it became evident that the Johnson-Stevenson race was so close, the Bureau wired for verification of returns from every county—just like each of the two candidates did. The candidates as well as the Bureau were anxious to get the figures correct. And that's that.

It is not too early to warn the voters of Randall county that they should go to the polls and vote in November. The representation which Randall county Democrats will receive in the convention of 1950 will be determined by the number of votes cast for Governor of Texas on November 2. There are about 3750 qualified voters in Randall county. Each and every one of those voters have an obligation to go to the polls and vote.

Is President Truman scared of what Texas voters may do to him in November? At least he is going to spend a few days campaigning in Texas, which is something new under the sun. Democratic Texas has been taken for granted in past years. Maybe Texans have changed!

Poll makers continue to show that Dewey will win in a walk. Then why continue the expense of taking polls, and more polls?

This fall weather has been very, very beautiful. While rains have not fallen at the best time for the row crop, they have been fine for wheat seeding.

The working parts of freight cars—wheels, frames and springs to support the body, couplers, draft gear and brakes—have been so standardized as to enable repairs to be made regardless of the distance from the owner's headquarters.

Personally we don't like the idea of linking Coke Stevenson and his followers with the Dixiecrats. That seems to be just what the Fort Worth convention was trying to do. Some Panhandle representatives voted to declare Johnson the senatorial nominee in face of the heavy lead which was maintained by Stevenson. They voted for Johnson on the theory that he was declared the winner by 78 votes by the canvassing committee. This may be a Dixiecrat section of Texas. We have no means of knowing. But certainly not all Stevenson followers are with the Dixiecrats, and certainly Coke Stevenson has done nothing to indicate that he stood with the Dixiecrats. Kicking the Dixiecrats out of the convention may or may not have been a wise thing to do. The Panhandle was warned in advance that Johnson would punish those who opposed him. If that is his attitude a lot of folks will be mighty sorry that they supported him in the campaign.

Some Panhandle folks have been criticizing Hansford county for not holding an election on August 28 without knowing the facts. No one realized that the senatorial race would be neck and neck. Out of a million votes, you cannot anticipate such a close race. The county executive committee of Hansford county voted in June not to hold a second primary unless required by law to do so. The law requires a second primary should there be contests in either district or county races. Due to the increased costs of elections, the county committee decided to eliminate the second primary and give the local candidates a break. If the Hansford county committee had realized the closeness of the senatorial race, a second primary certainly would have been ordered, and the local candidates would have been assessed a sufficient amount to pay the costs. The News has maintained for a long time that candidates for state offices should be assessed enough to help the counties pay a just part of the cost of elections. After all, 600 qualified voters in Randall county failed to go to the polls in July; and 1700 in August; and very few Panhandle counties cast little more than a 50% vote in August. Hansford did not cost Coke Stevenson the election; he lost it right here in Randall county.

Old Man Politics has started working overtime throughout the nation. Both candidates for president and vice-president of the two major parties are out after the votes. Henry Wallace has been gathering egg fruit for some time. The Dixiecrats started in Texas several weeks ago. From now until November 2 you will hear all kinds of political chatter on the air. Listen to the boys present their claims, and then go to the polls and vote as you please. This is not the Texas primary, and no one can pin the brass collar around your neck and tell you that you must vote for any candidate for President or Vice President. Your vote is your own to use as you please.

When a small bond issue will buy more school property than a larger bond issue would during this period of inflated values, it is certainly wise to support the small issue. Voters of the Canyon school district will vote on a $100,000 bond issue Saturday, Sept. 25. It would take a bond issue of at least $750,000 to buy as much school improvements as this smaller issue will provide. Naturally there will be some folks opposed to approving the bond issue. It is up to those who want to see the best given to the children of the district to go to the polls and vote their sentiment.

Those who have visited the Palo Duro State Park this fall declare that the canyon has never been so beautiful. We have talked with a number of visitors, those who visited the Palo Duro for the first time. All of them expressed amazement at the wonders of the Palo Duro. There are hundreds of persons in Randall county who have not visited the Park for many years. It will pay them to take a little time off and drive out to see this little Grand Canyon—and you can drive down into the Canyon with ease and pleasure.

The biggest business in Canyon and Randall county is education. That is why every qualified voter in the Canyon school district should go to the polls on Saturday of this week and vote in favor of the four propositions which are listed on the official ballots. There are about 2,000 qualified voters in this district. Do not let the opportunity slip to favor education of the children.

The Canyon school district is very fortunate in having such a well qualified group of trustees. This group is presenting to the voters four necessary proposals in order to complete the consolidation program. You are urged to go to the polls and vote on Saturday, Sept. 25.

If we could really scream out loud and draw the attention of all the people, we would do so by urging that all qualified voters go to the polls on Sept. 25 and vote in favor of the four proposals on the official ballot.

Politics Messes Up Medical Aid Says Europeans

Dr. E. L. Henderson, of Louisville, recently attended the sessions in Rome of the International College of Surgeons—his third European trip in 14 months as a delegate from American medical groups. On his return from the latest journey he said that if the members of Congress could see how state medicine works abroad they would never think of introducing it in this country. In every European nation where socialized medicine is practiced, he added, there has been a decline in the standards of medical care.

More evidence to the same effect has come from New Zealand, whose government medical program was much praised in this country when it went into effect. The bill for tax-paid medical service rose nearly three times between 1942 and 1947. Even though the politicians had promised unlimited benefits to the voters, they were forced to ask the doctors to restrict services to their patients—a request that the doctors have refused to follow. The burden on the doctors has become so great in many instances appointments have to be made four months in advance. Patients queue up in the doctor's office whether they need attention or not, on the theory that they have it coming. The whole New Zealand plan has been pretty much of a fiasco, and is now in the process of revision.

The story of what politics does to the practice of medicine is always the same. It can be summed up in a phrase—poorer service and more costly service.

A plus in any bus!

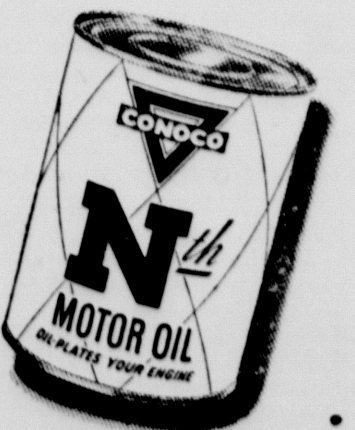

When you switch to Conoco Nth Motor Oil and an OIL-PLATED engine, you get these triple advantages...

(1) Extra protection from power-clogging sludge and carbon due to wear; (2) extra protection from metal-eating combustion acids; (3) extra protection from destructive "dry" friction starts.

Because Conoco Nth Motor Oil (Patented) fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal surfaces that working parts are actually OIL-PLATED! This extra film stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down, even overnight.

For plus performance... full-time protection... more miles per quart...

ACTION DURING THE OPENER

Guard Needing
1,000 More Men
For Companies

The Texas National Guard still needs about 1000 men, who may be recruited from young men 17 to 18½ years old, according to the proclamation of Governor Jester August 10th, as required by the Selective Service Act.

These men will be deferred from the draft as long as they serve satisfactorily in the Guard, which means until they pass the draft age, according to Department of the Army Circular No. 247.

Texas schools allow scholastic credit for membership in the National Guard in lieu of Physical Education.

The Act provides that in states where National Guard units have not reached or cannot maintain their authorized strengths by the enlistment of persons not liable for the draft, the Governor may issue a proclamation stating this fact. This will permit the deferment of 17 to 18½ year olds if they join and remain in the Guard.

Veterans with more than 90 days but less than 12 months Federal service may also be exempt from the draft by joining the Guard.

Applicants will be carefully selected under this quota, largely based on ability to attend weekly training periods and summer camp. Absences may not exceed 10 per cent of scheduled drills, days of field training, or a combination thereof.

Members of the senior ROTC who are also members of the Guard do not have to attend National Guard armory drills.

Oil burner sales are picking up again. Reason: predictions of adequate heating oil supplies. Vice president W. A. Matheson of Eureka Williams Oil-o-matic division says: "There'll not be a cold home among users of power burners in the entire field."

Pennsylvania Railroad's vast building program will cost more than the Government spent for Hoover Dam. Each through passenger train will have supervised children's playrooms, refreshment lounges, movies and doors that open at touch.

Democratic Party bigwigs have dropped the idea of using Defense Secretary James Forrestal as a Truman vote-getter. The reason: Delicate foreign situations make it imperative to keep national defense on a non-political basis.

the Southeast's leading market, a Florida economist predicts. Reasons: Miami is the fastest growing city in southern U. S. (population rose from 270,000 in 1940 to about 400,000 at the end of 1947); high home ownership ratio; a newly-acquired year-round market stability.

Fearful of a Soviet veto should the dispute go to the U. N.'s Security Council, the plan now is to submit the Berlin question to the General Assembly meeting this month in Paris.

The Civil Aeronautics Board will probably settle the long standing dispute over airline rates next week. The peace-making ruling: an across-the-board increase of 10%, plus a 6c-a-mile surcharge on luxury DC-6 and Constellation flights.

Americans are drinking more coffee and milk than any other beverage. The 1948 score: 8 billion gallons of coffee (55 gallons per capita); nearly 7 billion gallons of milk; 2.7 billion gallons of beer; 1.7 billion gallons of soft drinks.

Worry is like a rocking chair. It will give you something to do—but it won't get you anywhere.

BUFF CAPTAINS

Here are the two boys who will represent the Buffs in midfield before the games this year, Co-captains Buck Garrett, top, and Lloyd Johnson. Buck was one of the regulars who last season marked up one of the finest seasons the Buffs ever had. As a center and linebacker he is feared and respected throughout the conference. Lloyd, on the other hand, is no sissy when it comes to the sport. He is a fast man and like trying to tackle a snake after he gets going. Both will be seen in most every game this season, adding their big bits to the Buffs offense and defense.

Harry Truman is on the brink of one of his greatest political fumbles. He has ordered top-level Veteran Administration officials to withhold notification of some $15 billion in G. I. veteran insurance dividends until just before the November elections. Republicans, wise to this political maneuver, will leave no stone unturned to show up the move as a device to win the votes of all veterans who ever held a policy.

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito is getting ready to do business with the U. S. and Western European nations on a grand scale. First big purchase will be oil, which will be sold first to Trieste or Italy; then resold to Yugoslavia. To implement buying programs, Tito (who is desperate for supplies) has already deposited $20 million in gold in Swiss banks.

"BUT WHERE'D YOU GET THE $400?"

ASKED BILL COLIHAN

WE WERE sitting in my office last Monday talking about a small piece of property I'm thinking of buying as protection.

You know, a little strip of land, so that I'll have something between me and the next guy's garage. It will set me back about $400.

And it was around this four hundred dollar mark that Bill Colihan piped up and said:

"There must be something wrong with me. I'm sure I make as much money as most other people do, and yet I never have any money left over for extras. I don't see how you do it. Just where did you get that $400?"

"I saved it up the automatic way," I answered. "Guess that's the only way people like us can ever save up any money."

"Not this person," grunted Bill. "Come the end of the month I just don't have anything left to save."

"Don't give me that routine," I snapped. "Now that factories and offices have the automatic Payroll Savings Plan, a guy can't help saving. Why, it's as painless as cutting off your toe nails."

"You don't even know you're saving—except for the fact that the U. S. Savings Bonds begin piling up. And for every $3 you sock away in these Savings Bonds, you get back $4."

"Go on, beat it out of here. Telling me you can't save money. Anyone can do it with the automatic Payroll Savings Plan lying around. Anyone!"

P. S. There's also an automatic Bond-A-Month Plan for those who aren't on a payroll. Your local bank would like to tell you about it.

Demand For Oil Has Increased 50% in America

Writing in the American Magazine, the president of one of the nation's oil companies briefly describes the size of the job the people have given the oil industry—and of the industry's success in doing it.

We are burning 50 per cent more oil than before the war. That is because there are 3,700,000 more automobiles, 110 per cent more buses and 46 per cent more trucks. About 1,500,000 more homes have oil heat. Railroads are using more diesel powered locomotives. And farmers have about doubled their use of tractors and other motorized equipment.

"To cope with this thundering demand," he says, "the petroleum industry is rushing to completion an expansion program that will cost at least $4,000,000,000 in two years alone." And the first effects of that program are being felt now. Current oil production is 10 per cent ahead of last year, and it is getting higher week by week. New pipe lines are being laid, and new tankers are on the ways. In every phase of operation, the industry is working on a full speed ahead basis.

As a result, he forecasts that oil supplies will be adequate this winter. But that prediction is necessarily qualified by one condition—that there be no sudden emergency, such as a war, a disaster, or a long crippling strike. Any of these would change the oil outlook drastically and for the worse. If the industry can keep on working normally, the oil we need will flow to every part of the country.

He who coined the phrase "dirty cheap" was not referring to present day realty prices.

Often I had said that if 10 leading Memphis citizens, business and professional men, with a substantial stake in the community, would join hands and stand fast against Boss Crump, his machine could be beaten. It did not take 10. Seven proved enough.—Edward J. Meeman, editor, Memphis Press-Scimitar.

Norman Thomas is a leader without followers. People applaud him and admire him, but they will not vote for him.—John Haynes Holmes, pastor, Community Church, New York.

Nothing in the White House surprised me more than a gallery of cartoons of President Truman. While visitors wait outside Mr. Truman's office, they face an array of anti-Truman humor.—Robert Delmarcelle, Brussels, Belgium, newsman.

Famed United States Navy Band Scheduled For Two Performances Here on October 14

Students of West Texas State and citizens of the Panhandle will be honored on October 14 when they have the opportunity to hear the famous United States Navy Band.

Jerry Newman, Buffalo Band director, has secured the performance of this celebrated organization for two appearances here on that date. The band is on a tour of the southwest and this is the only place in the Panhandle where they will play.

The afternoon performance scheduled for three o'clock will be primarily for the band students of this area but college students and the public are invited and urged to attend. Prices for this afternoon show are set at ninety-cents each. No reservations will be handled for this show.

Tickets and reservations for the night performance can be had by either calling or writing Mr. Newman at the Band House here on the campus. Prices for this appearance will be $1.80 for the main auditorium and $1.20 for the balcony.

"This is the first time in about ten years that this colorful band has made a tour of this section," states Newman, "and we are very fortunate indeed that they picked this school for a performance. It is well worth anyone's money to attend a show of this kind."

Directing this band will be Commander Charles Brendler, well-known and well-liked figure in America's music world.

When he was only a lad of 15, Charles Brendler enlisted in the United States Navy and went to sea aboard the U. S. S. Florida with a "landsman for musician" rating that drew him the princely pay of $17.16 a month.

Four years of the sea and service discipline didn't discourage the clarinet-playing youngster in the least, for he found that Navy life agreed with him. Because it did, he has remained in the service ever since.

In 35 years, he has played his way to the top—and a higher top than any musician has ever achieved in the Regular Navy before. He holds the rank of Lieutenant Commander and is conductor of The United States Navy Band, "The World's Finest."

The Navy Yard in Washington (now known as the Navy Gun Factory) has been home base to Commander Brendler since 1917, when he came to the Navy Band to fill a clarinet vacancy. After 20 years as a member of the Band (it is now the official United States Navy Band), his qualities of leadership won him promotion to assistant leader. Five years later, in 1941, he was appointed leader.

Internationally Known

In his capacity as leader of the band, Commander Brendler has achieved notable distinction, both in Washington and throughout this country and Canada. He is a member of the National Press Club in Washington, as well as the Variety Club and is the one and only honorary member of the exclusive White House Correspondents' Club.

He is an affable, friendly and very human, though very strict musician. His band must be all things to all music-lovers. The 80-piece military band, thunderous and stirring on official occasions or in Band Concerts, can (and on occasion must) change color like the chameleon and be a Symphony Orchestra or a dance band as well.

Despite its very heavy schedule in Washington, however, it has always been the feeling of The United States Navy Band that it belongs, not simply to the Capitol, but to all the people of the United States. Hence its eagerness to go on tour for two months annually.

Likes Tours

Commander Brendler, in particular, is an enthusiast for the annual tours. He believes America is the most musically-minded country in the world and that Americans have the finest appreciation of music and can cite any number of reasons for his belief.

It is an invigorating experience to him and to the members of his band to encounter proof of this in every town and city the band visits each year. He finds the enthusiasm for music genuine and universal throughout the country.

Commander Brendler likes this. He likes people as much as he loves music and he respects the tastes of high school youngsters who go for jazz and fun in music as sincerely as he does the tastes of those who like their music "square." The Band repertoire covers the tastes of all and, by its manner of playing, gives all groups the finest music the ear can listen to.

Man can criticize woman all he wants, but we know three things in her favor. 1—she never wastes two dollars worth of shells in order to shoot a twenty-five cent rabbit. 2—she never gives a waiter a fifty-cent tip just because he smiles at her. 3—she never would pay twenty-five dollars for boat hire to get where the fish are not.

An old farmer and his wife were standing before their pigsty, looking at their only pig, when the old lady said: "John, let's kill the pig, it will be our silver wedding anniversary tomorrow." The husband replied in disgust: "What is the use in murdering the pig for what happened 25 years ago?"

"What a strange looking cow!" exclaimed the girl from the city. "Why hasn't she any horns?"

"Well," said the farmer, "some cows are born without horns, some shed theirs and some we dehorn. But the reason this cow hasn't horns is that she is a mule."

Dealers expect home furnishing sales will be cut sharply as a result of controls on installment buying. Hardest hit will be automatic electric washers, television receivers and expensive radio combinations; refrigerators and furniture sales will also sag.

Presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey has privately expressed his thanks and approval to GOP Congressional spy-hunters. So pleased are top Republican policy-makers, that a high level decision has been made to push the search for subversives harder than ever before.

When the printers' labor fight is finally settled, Robert A. Denham will resign as general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board. Ill health has been given as his reason for quitting.

WE ARE BUILDING ... WITH WEST TEXAS

Our 1948 expansion program, which is proceeding vigorously and satisfactorily, includes four general types of projects. Each type is represented here by a photo of one specific job.

Photo No. 1: McSpadden Compressor Station, near Canyon, Texas. Enlarged from 1,530 horsepower to 2,850 horsepower. Of our six compressor stations, five are being enlarged for a total addition of 2300 horsepower.

Photo No. 2: Replacing 3 1/2-inch pipe with 6 5/8 inch pipe in portion of line serving Levelland and Whitarral. We are replacing several key sections of pipe lines which had become inadequate due to spectacular growth of the towns.

Photo No. 3: This photo taken at Plainview shows one of the countless extensions being installed in the various towns to serve new customers. Probably about 5,000 new homes and businesses will get gas service this year.

Photo No. 4: A new feeder main to improve gas service in a large section of Odessa. In Odessa, two such projects involve a total of 8,750 feet of large pipe, mostly 7-inch, and similar major improvements are being made in a number of other city distributing plants.

CARE Offers Best Solution For Packages

In face of threat of a possible World War III the need of undernourished Europeans is intensified, according to Elmore R. Torn, state CARE executive committee chairman.

"Individual need cases can best be served by individual food, textile, and baby packages such as CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) makes available on a guaranteed delivery basis for $10 a package," Torn said.

"Ninety nine chances out of a hundred when you send a CARE package you not only bring hope for a free world to a hungry soul but also the determination to resist oppression."

"CARE is a convenient and economical medium through which not only individuals but also firms and corporations can develop and maintain their own aid to freedom programs," Torn pointed out.

Headquarters for the State Care Committee for Texas of which Governor Beauford Jester is honorary chairman are located in Austin.

Mrs. W. H. Buchanan, executive secretary of the State Committee said she will be glad to give information to all individuals and groups desiring it.

Communications should be addressed to CARE, P. O. Box 269, Austin, Texas.

Mrs. Buchanan pointed out that it is now possible to send CARE packages to Japan as well as to most European countries including Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Cyprus, Czechoslovakia, Eire, Finland, France, Germany (American, British and French zones and all of Berlin), Great Britain, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Netherlands and Poland.

School Dismissed At Noon Oct. 4

By action of the Administrative Council, classes at West Texas State will be dismissed at 12:00 noon, October 4, in order that students and faculty may attend the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

This announcement was made by Dr. Cornette, Thursday morning.

Corn plants of the future will be several feet smaller than today's crop. Scientists at Brookhaven (N. Y.) National Laboratory have just finished an experiment which will reduce corn plants to the height of an average man. The shorter plants will be easier to harvest, less vulnerable to heavy winds and rainstorms.

If cranberry producers have their way the popular color this fall will be Cranberry Red. As part of a sales drive they have persuaded cosmetic makers to put out a new cranberry-colored lipstick, dress designers to create cranberry wardrobes, dance instructors to promote a Cranberry Hop and song writers to produce "Cranberry Bog."

Flight Training Classes Started

Two New Airplanes Give College Initial Self-Owned Aviation

West Texas State has now the beginning of their own Air Force!

That is, two new airplanes have been purchased by the college and will be used in Flight Training classes which are now open.

Flight Training has been on the curriculum of West Texas for several years but this will mark the first time that training will occur in college-owned craft. In the past students took the classes through a contract with the Canyon Aviation Service.

The two planes purchased are of different type—one is a primary trainer and the other is for secondary flight students.

This Flight class is open to all West Texas State students who can meet the requirements for this type training.

Interested parties are urged to contact Ted Reid, Director of Aviation Training, in the Veterans Office immediately. Classes will be limited.

Postwar features of 1949 cars—roomier interiors, improved springing, "cradled" ride, higher compression engines and optional automatic shift on some models—are expected to be the industry's only big advances for the next several years—until makers have recovered re-tooling investment which cost triple what they would have pre-war.

Half this year's auto output will replace old cars going off the road, so on January 1, 1949, the nation will still face a backlog of 7.3 million orders. Biggest bottleneck: lack of steel to make bonnets, tops, other large parts. Only five U. S. mills can produce this size and type of steel.

I hope somebody will save this country from some of the people in it who are trying to save the world.

There is no truth in the contention that the Negro will gradually disappear through the infusion of white blood. The inter-mixture is too negligible.—William M. Kephart, University of Pennsylvania sociologist.

It is much easier to love people than it is to agree with them.

FACT FABLE

Once upon a time a candidate for a public office spent all of his campaign speeches telling the people what he had done for them. Most of his talks went about like this: "I was a combat man in the first war, and then I was American Legion Commander; for years I have been Sunday School Superintendent. Then I was on a Draft Board this last war, and also served as Chairman in the Red Cross Drive—etc."

But the voters thought he had done enough for his country and elected the other fellow!

Moral: Some people try too hard.

We hear about soil erosion. Surely, not less serious is the matter of mind erosion; the dust storms of daily excitement and of continual triviality can easily blow away the sensitive top-soil of the spirit. The result is a narrow and shallow nervous credulity.—Christopher Morley, author.

Obviously, the Hatch Act is full of loopholes as far as limiting political expenditures is concerned. These loopholes should be plugged.—Sen. Carl Hatch (D-N. Mex.).

The U. S. tobacco industry is indignant at the British boycott of U. S. tobacco in favor of Empire production as a dollar-saving move. While in Europe Sen. Alben Barkley, from tobacco-growing Kentucky, will ask ECA Ambassador Harriman whether ECA is encouraging beneficiary nations to buy Greek and Turkish tobacco instead of American.

A quiet meeting of Britain's Churchill and France's Gen. Charles de Gaulle in Aix-en-Provence recently spurred reports that the two war-time leaders who never sought to conceal distrust of each other might be seeking a meeting ground against another common enemy: communism.

Fire Prevention Is the Job For All Citizens

This country will win the war against fire when, and only when, we realize that every American must take his place as a belligerent.

Those whose main business is fire prevention are doing a fine job. They are helping to develop safer building materials, appliances and machinery. They are improving our fire departments and other fire facilities. They are making available a wealth of material which shows the causes of fire, the principal hazards, and proven means of prevention. But all this essential work will be done in vain unless a wide degree of public interest and co-operation are obtained.

There is nothing impersonal about fire prevention. It has only one purpose—to make your home, your property, and your person safe from one of the cruelest killers and destroyers. Its sole aim is to save the $700,000,000 worth of property and the more than 10,000 lives that fire now consumes each year. It's goal, therefore, is to make this a safer, happier and richer country.

Organized fire prevention work is being brought to a peak of activity in 1949, and it will reach its apex during Fire Prevention Week in October. The leaders and experts are showing the way. It is up to the rest of us—the millions who are never safe from the threat of fire, whether we realize it or not—to make this great work bear its full fruit.

Radicals Seek To Enlist the Nation's Youth

Every radical movement, whether it be communist or some milder form of red, goes all out in attempting to enlist young people. Old ideas of government, economics and practically everything else, the argument runs, are outmoded and ridiculous. Tradition is meaningless. So it is up to youth to bring a brave new world into being by setting up some kind of system in which everything will be done for everybody, and a handful of government officials with unlimited powers will make all the decisions.

It cannot be denied that the efforts to line up youth in causes which are essentially totalitarian in nature has met with considerable success. Speakers whose ideas of progress is to destroy everything that has gone before, commonly find their most enthusiastic audiences on university campuses. And political organizations like Mr. Wallace's so-called Progressives make no secret of the fact that they expect to find a fertile field for proselytizing among the young.

This is the result of a grave defect in the American educational system—a defect which may eventually be fatal to freedom if it goes uncorrected long enough. Some of the standard textbooks used in our leading colleges couldn't serve the cause of communism or socialism better if they had been written by Karl Marx in person. By direction they make it appear that the economic system we call capitalism exists primarily to permit the few to exploit the many. Business, particularly big business, they imply, is a conscienceless racket. And the only solution is to let the government run the whole works.

This is the doctrine that produced communism in Russia, nazism in Germany, fascism in Italy, and has been responsible for more misery, more oppression, and more human slavery than anything thought up since the days of Attila. It is a provable fact that capitalism—which simply means the right to own property and to use it in any legal way is the only economic system which can exist along with representative government. And there shouldn't be any mystery as to why that is so. If we are to have economic dictatorship, we must have political and social dictatorship to make it work.

It is about time we taught a few fundamental truths to young and old alike. Among them is the fact that capitalism has given more people infinitely more material gains than any other system yet devised. It has given us liberty and human dignity. Its benefits are shared by the many instead of the few. And, so far as youth is concerned, it offers an unlimited opportunity for service and achievement. That, regardless of what the textbooks and the rabble rousers may say, is the truth.

Local Health Units Hold Down Spread Common Diseases

Comparing morbidity reports from ten Texas Counties where there are no full-time local health units, with those from ten other Counties where these units afford efficient health protection, reveals a startling difference in the incidence of communicable diseases, according to a survey released by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Using as a basis of comparison the common childhood disease of whooping cough, Dr. Cox said that this survey showed that the Counties where local health units availed themselves of biologics from the State Health Department were able to hold this communicable disease to a desirable minimum.

"For instance," Dr. Cox said, "take these figures for comparison. In these Counties where there are no health units and therefore no biologics, from the State Health Department were used, the following rates of incidence apply, per 100,000 population: Gaines and Floyd, above 1000; Hale, Dallam, Castro and Cottle above 300; Carson above 400; Bailey and Hartley above 600; and Lipscomb above 750 cases."

By way of contrast to these high rates of incidence, Dr. Cox pointed out that in a representative group of Counties where full-time health units made use of the biologics available from the State Health Department, the following much lower rates prevailed: Bell, Wichita, Bastrop and Hidalgo, less than 300; Travis less than 200; Smith and El Paso less than 150; Bexar, Dallas and Tarrant less than 100 cases per 100,000 population.

"It is plain to be seen," Dr. Cox said, "that the counties receiving the benefit of full-time health protection, enjoy a much lower incidence of disease and the resulting lessened danger of death. Public health protection can be had for every citizen of Texas, but only when sufficient funds are appropriated to make possible a full-time local health unit in every one of the 254 Counties," Dr. Cox declared.

SCRATCH THIS LINE

AGAINST the issuance of the bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof.

PROPOSITION NUMBER FOUR

FOR Maintenance Tax.

SCRATCH THIS LINE

AGAINST Maintenance Tax.

EXPLANATION OF BALLOT

PROPOSITION NUMBER ONE

The trustees of our present school district are asking the voters to cancel out this $75,000 Bond Issue, which was voted and passed favorably last May, at which time our district was only 92 square miles in size. The size of our district now has enlarged to approximately 633 square miles, or, more than seven times its former size. Fortunately, for the school children, the Attorney General disapproved this $75,000 Bond Issue on the grounds that the boundary lines of the original school district were changed and enlarged before the issue was printed and cashed. This now allows the present larger district to vote an entirely new issue (Proposition Number Three below).

PROPOSITION NUMBER TWO

Vote favorably on this proposition in order that the bonded indebtedness now existing will be equitably spread over the entire area of our enlarged district.

PROPOSITION NUMBER THREE

This proposition asks that you support a bond issue in the amount of $100,000 which is to pay for the building improvements, additional classroom space, Cafeteria, heating plant and other improvements which were proposed earlier this summer. This IS NOT IN ADDITION to the $75,000 mentioned in Proposition One above, but is substituted for it . . . thus asking an increase of only $25,000 to pay for a larger and more adequate heating plant plus other building costs which have risen in costs since May of this year.

PROPOSITION NUMBER FOUR

Voting for this maintenance tax of $1.50 per one hundred dollars of property valuation does not increase taxes at all in the Canyon Independent School District, but does make the tax rate UNIFORM over the entire new area. This, obviously, will raise the sending districts slightly where they did not have quite a $1.50 rate previously.

Russians Win in "Cold War" Is Indicated

It's not a pleasant thing to write, but there are certain definite signs that indicate that this country is losing the "cold war" with the Soviet Union.

That point of view was expressed some time ago by Ray Cromley, writing in the Wall Street Journal. He based it on four primary considerations: First, it looks as if the Russians are playing tough and demanding heavy concessions in the four-power talks on the Berlin situation. Second, Russia ran the important Danube conference just about as she pleased, and protests from Western representatives received short shrift. Third, the Russians have been improving their position in the strategic Palestine area. Fourth, the United States is very much on the defensive in Berlin.

Since Mr. Cromley wrote, the French crisis has reached an alarming stage. The utter failure of any French statesman to form a government which can remain in power for any length of time is undermining France's position as one of the key Western powers. And this is precisely the sort of thing which the Russians are most effective in exploiting. They are past masters at cashing in on dissatisfaction and turmoil. The fact that the voting communists are very much in the minority in France is not necessarily important. They are well organized, trained and disciplined, and obviously hope that, eventually, they will be able to seize the reigns of government in France much as they did in Czechoslovakia.

To understand all this, one must understand the Russian mentality and Russian long-term policy. The whole basis of Soviet teaching from Lenin on has been that communism and capitalism cannot exist together indefinitely—that one or the other must triumph completely, by martial or other means. This fundamental idea was soft-pedaled during the war, but it certainly was never forgotten in Soviet upper councils. According to the best reports, it has been the theme of some internal dissension in the Kremlin, between officials who hold to it absolutely and a few moderates who think it may be susceptible to some modification. In any event, it lies at the ideological heart of current Russian activity.

Russia is tremendously concerned with her security problem. Her position is rigorously isolationist—that is, she means to build up an industrial and geographical empire which will make it possible to live entirely within herself, without dependence on any other country and, of vital importance, without fear of effective opposition from inside or outside her world. To achieve this, she feels that she must secure control of the industry and natural resources of Europe—along with the manpower of Europe.

Why is Russia so determined to force us out of Berlin? There are several answers. First, Berlin is still the heart of Germany, and is a potent symbol. Second, if we should find our position in Berlin untenable and pull out, the psychological effect not only on the Germans but on other European countries could be extremely serious. Third, gaining control of Berlin and the machinery of government is a necessary step to extending control to the main German industrial areas, such as the Ruhr. Fourth, the Russian attitude toward the millions of Germans who have worked with the Western powers since the war is all too clear—and if she ever gets Berlin retaliation on an immense scale can be expected.

As a number of writers have pointed out of late, the Truman doctrine, which is based on the containment of Russia, is not working. The Marshall Plan is obtaining a limited success but current events are a grave threat to it. This brings up an issue which is likely to come more into the open during the next year or so. That is outright military alliances between the United States and Western European countries—France, Italy, the Benelux group, and the rest. If this should come to pass, it would simply be an extension of the idea that we must get tougher and tougher with Russia if she forces us into it. In some high places, both here and in England, it is believed to be the only hope for an extended peace. The thought is still held that ideological considerations to one side, the Russian leaders are practical enough to come to terms of some kind if they become convinced that the Western powers really mean business, and will see the thing through to the end. This thought is founded, in part, on the belief that Russia is too weak economically to run the risk of an all-out shooting war that would involve the entire world almost from the outset.

The Russians are undoubtedly capitalizing on the fact that this is an election year in the U. S., that a president who is not assured of continuance in office beyond next January loses much of his effectiveness, and that the opposition candidate, even though his chance of election is strong, is still an unofficial person without power to act or to create policy. The Russian press is giving a strong play to the Wallace campaign, in an obvious effort to sell the idea that this country is hopelessly divided. All of this is part of the plan to break down European faith in our resolve.

The United States has, in the last few years become noted for its numerous and large dams located throughout the nation.

DEFERRED

When Bill Brown applied for settlement of a claim for fire insurance the agent asked, "Much damage?"

"Not much, just a door," said the man.

"How much would a door cost?"

"About five dollars."

"When did the fire happen?"

"About 30 years ago."

"And you've waited all these years to report it?"

"Yes."

"How did that happen?"

"Well, my wife has been at me to do something about that door ever since it was burned, and I couldn't stand it any longer."

Plains Delegates Objected to Vote of Gibson in Conflab

A report by Democratic delegates from Gray, Ochiltree, Farmer, Deaf Smith, and Randall Counties to the voters of the Panhandle:

The citizens of the Panhandle, always used to clean and open politics, have a right to know the manner in which they were completely disfranchised in the recent election by a stacked Potter County delegation.

As is now generally known the burning issue that first came before the Fort Worth meeting was the action of the executive committee in certifying the close senatorial count, which it at once proceeded to do, notwithstanding the obvious concern of decent and moral people everywhere that there was not only "something rotten in Denmark," but much that was downright corrupt in the kingdom of Duval.

In contrast to the controlled vote of South Texas, upon which this issue hung, the 31st Senatorial District which we were chosen to help represent, has always been noted for honest elections. In keeping with its character and its Western tastes, this section had cast its vote overwhelmingly in support of Governor Coke Stevenson for the United States Senate. Out of a total of twenty-six counties, all but three favored Stevenson by a majority of almost two to one, and a shift of less than a hundred votes would have given them to him.

It would seem perfectly clear, therefore, that the Panhandle wanted Stevenson, who was apparently elected until late "amended" returns from the controlled Mexican vote section placed Lyndon Johnson in the lead.

Only then did the function of certifying the election returns by the Democratic Executive Committee, the directorate of the closed corporation still called the Democratic Party, become of vital importance to the affected candidates. This act is usually considered an empty gesture. But here, with the great prestige of implied party approval, it became, in the public mind, almost tantamount to election. Only in this light, with its attendant and really vital issue of party control, can the significance of the Fort Worth battle be understood.

Yet notwithstanding the fact that the Panhandle had plainly expressed its preference, it was disfranchised at the convention through the seizure of important county delegations by minority groups who favored Johnson. This seizure was engineered, promoted and arbitrarily controlled by a professional politician, Charles C. Gibson, long a reporter for The Amarillo Times.

At the convention the certification issue came to its test before the Executive Committee. As the District's Committeeman, it might be thought that, in view of the honest, unmistakable preference of his own county and an almost solid district, Mr. Gibson would show a little respect for their wishes.

To suppose as much was to discount completely the ruthless nature of the Convention, and grossly to underestimate the callous political tactics of Mr. Gibson. He had not even been named as a delegate by his home precinct. Yet he took over the Potter County convention and led it at Fort Worth in subservient obedience to the Johnson party line. But his major stroke was to cast the deciding vote in the Executive Committee that robbed Panhandle of its preference, and gave the decision on the electoral count to Lyndon Johnson.

It should be observed finally that Mr. Gibson's vote upon this cynical perversion of the ballot in Texas came just after he had heard Honorable Clint Small, counsel for Governor Stevenson, present convincing evidence of fraud and corruption in the box in Jip Wells County that threw the popular total in favor of Johnson.

The bland defense of our Committee members that their function was not to investigate and expose fraud, but simply to certify the vote, disregarded the proper powers and the moral obligations of their office.

But the law is usually considered a weapon to control crime and corruption; not a subterfuge for those lacking the moral courage to meet the patriotic duty implicit in their offices. Meanwhile the issue goes to the courts, and with us, to the betrayed electorate of the High Plains.

Bufs Lost in Tech Game, 19-0 Saturday Night

The Buffaloes lost to Texas Tech in Lubbock Saturday night by a score of 19-0.

The Buffs had great hopes of winning this year, but the uneven odds of power and breaks of the game all favored Tech.

During the first half the Buffs outplayed and outfought Tech, but the South Plains boys got a break which resulted in an automatic safety near the end of the second period. Tech led 2-0 at the half.

The great supply of reserves soon told on the Buffs in the third period, and two touchdowns were pushed over. The second came as the result of a fluke which gave Tech the ball on a kickoff on the 20 yard line.

The final score came with a few seconds to play. Tech kicked a field goal after the Buffs had held them on the three yard line and threw the local team for a loss on an attempted pass.

The Buffs will have to wait for another year before thinking about whipping the strong Tech football team.

Dan Tobin, long-time leader of the AFL Teamsters' Union, appears to be losing control of his union and, as a result, his influence in union politics. The late President Roosevelt opened his 1944 campaign with an address to the Teamsters. This year, Mr. Tobin is unable to swing his Teamsters to the Democratic ticket. Dave Beck, Seattle labor leader and Mr. Tobin's rival, is a Republican.

John L. Lewis's retirement as active head of the United Mine Workers would greatly surprise his friends in the union. Rumors that Mr. Lewis plans to retire have been circulating in Washington, but none of Mr. Lewis's friends expect him to relinquish control of the union.

Flesher Says That Convention Report Made an Error

W. J. Flesher called the News from Amarillo Monday and stated that the report of the News last week was in error regarding the split of his vote with Everts Haley on the Johnson-Stevenson question.

The question on which they split was in regard to seating the Harris county delegation, and not on the Johnson-Stevenson issue.

The State Executive Committee certified the election returns and no vote was taken on this question until a number of delegations had walked out.

"I stated before the convention that I would vote to approve the man whom the State Committee certified, whether he be Johnson or Stevenson, and when the vote was taken on this issue there was only a few scattered votes on the question against Johnson," stated Mr. Flesher.

Henry Wallace and his Progressive Party have more campaign funds than the Democrats. Mr. Wallace gets most of his money by collecting admission fees for his rallies. Now the Progressives can buy more radio time than the Democrats.

To the state of New York belongs the honor of having held the first agricultural fair, later and now a valuable asset in each state. The idea was originated by Alkanah Watson, a resident of Albany, in 1819.

ALREADY USED

A missionary was returning to Basel from Patagonia, bringing with him for the purpose of science a collection of Patagonian skulls. The Custom-house officers opened the chest and informed the owner that the consignment must be classed as animal bones and taxed at so much

The missionary was indignant. So the officials agreed to reconsider. When the waybill had been revised, it appeared in the following form:

"Chest of native skulls. Personal effects, already worn."

A COURTESY

At the age of 88, Aunt Sarah went to Europe all alone, shortly before World War I, for what she declared was her "last look around."

She came back to this country to take up during her final illness the study of Hebrew. When a friend remonstrated with her for the effort this involved, she said she had always intended to take up the language and had put it off too long as it was.

"I wish to be able," she said with some finality, "to greet my Creator in his native tongue."

CAN'T LAST

Bud, overabundantly fortified with alcoholic stimulants, staggered up to a food automat, put a coin in the slot and bugged his eyes in astonishment when a piece of cherry pie came out.

He gobbled it down and repeated the procedure. As he continued to feed coins into the machine, he became more and more loaded with cherry pie—and more and more amazed.

Finally, a passerby nudged him and asked: "Don't you thing you'd better stop now?"

The drunk waved him away and reached for another coin. "What?" he demanded indignantly. "Shtop now—wihle I'm shtill winnin'?"

From the times of the discovery of oil in Pennsylvania in 1850 until the year 1901 the Middle Atlantic states were the main source of the production of crude petroleum in the United States.
